

Mandy's Menagerie

I'd like to tell you a story
About a little girl I once knew
She was only eight years old
When her ma and pa moved her to the blue skies
Of Africa "Hello, my name is Mandy"

She left behind her family of ants
And cats, turtles, gerbils
A lizard and yet
Mandy got to bring her dog Woof
Who she loved the best
But she couldn't help it
She missed her pets

"Hello, my name is Mandy"

But when she got there
Her feelings, they changed
"You wouldn't believe it if I told you
The truth is too strange
All the animals I only knew from zoos
Were visiting me
Boy, I was confused as can be
Here they were free
And they were living with me
So we called them..."

First there was a lion she found
He was hurt and she made him well again
By the time that Mandy turned ten
There were seven of them
That's how it began
Hey, don't forget the toucans

"Hello, my name is Mandy"

"Boy, it was amazing
The way they could learn
I taught them to cook and read and now it's my turn
I've got so much to learn from them
About loving the earth
And all it's worth
They taught me"

"There's just one thing before I go
I'd like you to know my friends
There's Meeka, the Lion
And Sophie the Giraffe
Maurice, the Bunny
He always makes us laugh
Edgar, the Elephant
That's Kali with the spots
And Ned and Nadine, the Twins

I love them and they love me
